Every woman wants to lose herself in her man, to open herself up to receive him into herself, to let his spirit rest in the temple of her heart. And in the same way, we are the temple of the Spirit of God, but unless we open the doors of our heart, we will simply be an empty temple, a bride without a husband. We long inwardly to open ourselves up to Christ, to let him penetrate into the center of our souls. When we surrender ourselves to him, we experience the deepest satisfaction in life. And at the same time the deepest wish of our hearts is fulfilled: we are filled with the power of love which will link us to our soul-mate in this human world.

“SEEK FIRST THE KINGDOM OF GOD AND ALL THESE THINGS SHALL BE YOURS TOO”

“Eye has not seen, nor ear heard, nor have entered into the heart of man. The things which God has prepared for those who love Him”.

1 Corinthians 2:9
